BRIT SCORES GOLD!

Bendigo Regional Institute of TAFE has scored a strike in true tenpin bowling fashion, but it's doesn't stop there. BRIT is the newest gold member of Club Youth Games and today, Acting CEO Bruce Baehnisch, BRIT Board Member Kevin Moon and General Manager Warren Driscoll are excited to check out their bowling action at the Tenpin Bowling Centre, one of the Games sporting venues.

Bruce Baehnisch, Acting CEO for BRIT, said BRIT is pleased to join the official business supporters club and looks forward to the community participating in the Games as volunteers, spectators and business providers.

"BRIT is very committed to youth development and we believe the Games is a wonderful celebration of youth bringing out their best."

"As a major vocational educational and training institution, we hope that as business supporters we can invest our expertise into the Games," said Mr Baehnisch.

Michelle Pryde, Director for the 2004 Commonwealth Youth Games, said over recent months BRIT has already been providing valuable support to staff.

"We are excited to announce BRIT's gold membership of Club Youth Games particularly as world champion skier Kirstie Marshall will be joining the Club next week as guest speaker."

"It will be a fantastic breakfast meeting with Kirstie taking the opportunity to discuss the value of elite junior sport development. BRIT, along with all our club members, will enjoy a great morning of encouragement and networking together," said Ms Pryde.
